PREFACE

Extension activities of the Department of Psychology provide a great service to the community as well as an experiential learning opportunity to our PG students and Final year UG students. In this academic year learning issues of school students are addressed by informal assessment procedure and provided counselling for the students in nearby schools.

The projects under the department are titled as "PHOENIX" and "HELPING HAND" which focus on instigating the school and college students for early intervention. Under the guidance of Professionals the PG students do provide various training sessions for strengthening and modifying the skills and abilities. An informal assessment camp was organized in nearby schools in which the students those who are having difficulties in learning are assessed and recommended for training/counselling session.

PHOENIX

Students from psychology department handled sessions related to various topics to create awareness about the psychological issues. Certain remedial measures to overcome stress, tension, anxiety were also given. The session was led by PG students in various schools.
